BIG ISSUES FOR CLOSING OF LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Legislature Not Likely To Adjourn At End Of Week

Members Believe Session Will Not Be Able To Close This Week

IMPORTANT ISSUES AWAITING ACTION

Extra Session Call Is Faced; Salary Measure Up To Vote Tonight

By ROBERT F. GORMAN

HARRISBURG, April 17.—While some leaders were still hopeful today that the present session of the Legislature could be adjourned sine die at the end of this week, the consensus of opinion was that there is too much unfinished business on the calendars to permit the two Houses to quit at this time.

House and Senate will resume work again tonight when they will be confronted with most of the important issues of the present session, now running deep into its fourth month. Unemployment relief for the 1933-35 biennium, settlement of the perplexing beer control measure, general appropriations, plans for reorganizing the various state departments to effect economies, old age pensions, unemployment insurance and a host of other matters must be disposed of before the session ends and all these are facing the legislature this week.

Salary Reductions
The House will vote tonight on the Howell Senate resolution which provides for a general salary reduction for all persons on the state payroll, including judges and legislators as well as elected department heads.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Easter weather was just one day late in arriving this year, but the rain ceased long enough during the afternoon and evening Sunday for the ladies to don their best finery.

If those yellow cabs really were headed for some definite destination it would seem that prosperity has returned to the taxi cab business. One of the Pa. News, enroute to Ohio Sunday evening, counted 63 of the large new cabs traveling in several lines toward New Castle. Additional lines toward New Castle, which Pa. News saw last week, the total group would amount in worth to a large number of thousand dollars.

Some downtown citizens tell Pa. News they can hear a crow "cawing" in the mornings.

The hitch-hiker on the New Bedford road last night who was carrying the innertube did look rather humorous. Wonder if he really was taking that innertube anywhere, or was it just a stunt to get a ride?

Saw a motorcycle rider in a ghastly outfit—a white suit with a large skeleton-cross bones painted on the back.

There seemed to be a turtle parade on the highway near the Harbor Bridge on the Shenango river on Sunday. Pa. News saw four or five crossing the roadway in the distance of several hundred feet. Apparently the turtles had been veered out of the river by the recent high water, and were traveling back to the river as the water had receded. Several

Martin Answers Pinchot Attack

HARRISBURG, April 17.—The political battle between Gov. Gifford Pinchot and the Republican organization struck a new peak of bitterness today as each assailed the legislative tactics of the others.

Shortly after the governor tossed responsibility for the failure of the general assembly to enact a beer tax bill into the organization's lap, Gen. Edward Martin, state Republican chairman, came forward with an answer and counter charges.

He denied absolutely the alleged violation of any promise to rush through tax legislation, which Governor Pinchot claimed is costing the state $10,000 daily in revenues.

"Governor Pinchot is at his best when he drags herring across the trail," said Martin. "It is his favorite role. The Republican organization at no time has suggested methods of taxing beer. It has said repeatedly, and repeats now, that it is willing to go along with the governor on anything that is square and on the level."

Thousands Of Youngsters Eagerly Await Time To Descend On White House

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—With that degree of dignity and aplomb at the command of a six year old, 'Sistie' Dall, the President's granddaughter, today led Washington's egg-rollers into action.

An all day rain Easter had slowed up the track considerably and the weather man was none too sanguine about atmospheric developments today, but the enthusiasm of the capital's juveniles as usual remained undampened.

Eager Youngsters
Black and white, rich and poor, thousands of youngsters had been poised since early morning for the annual invasion of the south grounds of the White House to indulge in that venerable custom of reducing the spacious lawn to a shambles with broken Easter eggs and picnic lunches.

Even the rain fails to interrupt this Easter Monday fete which is peculiar to Washington. That was evidenced last year when the kids descended last year when the kids (Continued On Page Two) ZEPPELIN DOCK, Akron, O., April 17.—For the fifth consecutive time the maiden flight of the navy's new giant dirigible, the U. S. S. Macon, sister-ship of the ill-fated Akron, was postponed today because of unfavorable weather conditions.

A thunderstorm, whipped by strong east winds, hovered over the Akron area this morning, necessitating additional delay in the initial flight.

Chinese Resistance May Lead To Further Advance By Jap

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, April 17.—Japanese troops will continue their drive into North China until Tientsin is taken unless Chinese forces cease their resistance, it was learned on reliable authority today.

Latest information from the scene of action stated Japanese and Manchukuo forces were pressing steadily toward the Luan river. The Chinese defenders were reported retreating in disorder, although attempting to stem the advance at every opportunity.

(Special To The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., April 17.—Since the whole country is all agreed that we are headed toward the feed trough, and since the members of congress have been so fine and decent, and the senators have taken out U. Course there is always Huey Long, the Japanese and the French, but the French are repenting, the Japanese have captured more than they can hold, and the "kingfish" of the Louisiana cane-breaks has not been convicted by court of law. ### Recognition Of Soviet Russia Is Considered

President And Advisers Discuss Possibility Of U. S. Recognition

Coming World Economic Conference May Hinge Around Russia's Influence

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Recognition of Soviet Russia before the world economic conference convened in London in June has been discussed by President Roosevelt and his advisers.

With Russia representing one-sixth of the world's surface and the greatest natural wealth and productive power outside the United States, Secretary of State Hull feels it will be difficult, if not impossible, to make the economic conference a complete success without the co-operation of the Soviet regime.

Both the President and Secretary Hull would like to have the opportunity of conferring with Soviet representatives on economic problems prior to the conference, but neither has given the question of recognition serious consideration.

However, Assistant Secretary of State Moore has been studying the question. He is seeking grounds on which it could be shown that recognition would be especially beneficial to the United States. If he succeeds within the next eight weeks, the President will informally approach the Soviet government on the question.

One State Department official said the chances of recognition between now and June 15th were mediocre owing to the rush of domestic matters and the early arrival of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Britain and other foreign representatives.

Chicago "Stock Promoter" Is Making Efforts To Contact Abductors

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 17.—Murray Humphreys, leader of the gang which Al Capone formerly headed, today was directing private negotiations for the release of Jerome Factor, 19-year-old son of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, who is being held by kidnapers for $50,000 ransom.

That Humphreys has been enlisted by the multimillionaire stock promoter to treat with the abductors was established when a second ransom note was delivered to Factor's $100-a-day hotel headquarters here by a telegraph messenger boy, Anthony Schneider, 17.

Assisting Humphreys in the negotiations was Lieut. Leo Carr, a Chicago policeman on sick leave. Carr was described as a close friend of the ex-Halsted street barber who became a multimillionaire through foreign stock promotions.

War Veteran Dies Suddenly

Jefferson N. Craig Is Stricken While In Providence, Kentucky

WAR PRISONER IN WORLD CONFLICT

Jefferson N. Craig, native of Lawrence county, and veteran of the world war from this district, with an interesting and unusual record of service, died suddenly and unexpectedly Saturday at Providence, Kentucky, according to word received here by relatives. As far as was known here, he had been in his usual good health and his sudden and unexpected death came as a shock to all. He was engaged in working as a traveling salesman at the time of his death.

He was born in Pulaski, Lawrence county, the son of W. D. Craig and Florence Nickum Craig and was about thirty-five years of age. He had spent practically all his life in this district.

Mr. Craig was a volunteer in the late war and after his enlistment for service with the regular army in February, 1918, was immediately assigned to Company F, Thirty-eighth U. S. Infantry, Third Division, a regular army outfit, which gave him the opportunity of entering the world war much sooner than many others and seeing and participating in activities of that war.

His outfit was moved to France almost immediately after his enlistment and he and his outfit had reached France early in May, 1918, the same year as that of his enlistment.

He was one of the first Americans captured by the Germans, being made a prisoner of war on July 18, 1918, as the Germans were making their famous drive across the Marne. He was probably the first Lawrence county boy to undergo this experience and was certainly one of the very few that was in a German prisoner camp. He remained a prisoner of the Germans until the Armistice, when he was released and sent to Vichy, France, to recuperate from the effects of his imprisonment, being brought from the German prison camp on a stretcher. He was also gassed during his stay overseas with the American Expeditionary forces. He was a member of the American Legion.

He was well known here and had a wide circle of friends, who will regret to learn of his death. He leaves a daughter, Margaret Ann Craig, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. William Frantz of 143 East Wallace avenue.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Great Crowds Attend Easter Church Services Despite Bad Weather

In spite of the fact that the weather man was in a rather fitful mood Sunday, the Easter services of the churches were well attended, with many of the churches of the city breaking records for attendance at the Sunday School and church services.

The downpour of rain about dawn prevented many hundreds from attending the sunrise services, although the community service, held in the First Christian church, instead of in the open, was attended by several hundred, and the unit service in the Second United Presbyterian church was attended by a crowd that filled the church auditorium.

Pageants, pomtomes, cantatas and anthems all told the Easter story; the note of the music all being of a joyful strain, as compared to the sad notes of the Good Friday music.

The congregations filled the churches for the evening services, which marked the close of the Lenten period and the services in practically every church were taken over by the choruses in presenting the story of the Resurrection in song.

Many new members were received into the churches and a large number of children as well as adults were baptized at the various services.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 17.—House and senate conferees who have been studying the Sowers-Conner bill control bill are expected to meet today and before the legislature meets tonight they will redraft the conference report submitted to the house last week.

According to present plans, the report already presented to the house will be withdrawn tonight and the substitute report will be presented later, probably tomorrow. The draft of the governor's new control legislation will be considered along with the Sowers-Conner bill and the report of conference will be written embodying features of both measures. The governor's suggestion of having treasurers issue licenses will likely be adopted in the report and the provisions fixing the tax at $124 per barrel will not be changed, according to Rep. Clinton A. Sowers.

Action By Friday
The new conference report will appear materially different from the original Sowers-Conner bill and the title will be about the only part left intact.

With the appearance of the new draft of the report in the house tonight or tomorrow, it was considered likely here today that the beer control legislation can be disposed of by Friday.

The house tonight will pass on second reading the McClure senate bill providing for the election of 15 delegates at large to convene for the purposes of ratifying or rejecting the twenty-first amendment to the federal constitution. The measure may be made a special order of business on final passage tomorrow.

Senator Borah And Rep. Fish Call Upon Roosevelt For Immediate Action

WOULD SET UP DICTATOR PLAN
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Cuba's reign of terror today threatened to add further to the cares of President Roosevelt as Senator Borah (R) of Idaho and Rep. Fish (R) of New York demanded immediate and definite action by this government in the island realm of President Cerado Machado.

Borah, ranking Republican member of the Senate foreign relations committee, advised the prompt exercise of the Platt amendment to bring about "peaceable settlement between the warring factions of Cuba."

Fish, Republican member of the House foreign affairs committee, counseled intervention, the immediate appointment of a strong American Ambassador to the Caribbean Republic and the selection of a provisional dictator until order is restored.

By LINTON WELLS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Apr. 17.—Conviction of five British and six Russians in the Metropolitan-Vickers spy trial was demanded today by Prosecutor Andrei Vyshinsky.

The prosecutor exonerated A. W. Gregory, one of the original six British defendants, and asked his acquittal. He recommended leniency for the other five Russian prisoners.

Vyshinsky said he would let the court decide whether death sentences should be imposed if the men are convicted.

"We don't insist upon it although they will deserve it," he said.

"Soviet justice," the prosecutor continued, "does not seek blood or vengeance."

"I cannot maintain the charges against Gregory and consider it desirable to release him. But the organizers of this conspiracy must be punished severely."

"But what should be the penalties? Section 38 of our criminal code authorizes shooting and they well deserve it. But our justice is soviet justice and we do not insist upon that."

"We do not seek revenge. Our power is strong and cannot be shaken by these people. But if you consider it necessary to pronounce the death sentence, I know your hands will be firm. We do not doubt of a fair verdict."

Thus, having in effect recommended (Continued On Page Two)

When the days are bright and charming there's a prospect that's alarming, it's a part of spring's activity, a sort of annual call, it's the job that drives you dizzy keeps you active like and busy, it's the task of cleaning paper in the bedroom and the hall. First you get a gob of cleaner and like some old fashioned cleaner you begin the constant wiping from the ceiling to the base, and there's crumbs of cleaner falling while your good wife keeps on calling to be careful of the light globe, as you slowly wipe your face. Tell me not in mournful numbers of the rooms you must go through, paper cleaning gets me dizzy, weather's damp and seventy two.

STATE APPROPRIATION SLASH IS REDUCED

Several Funds Are Restored

Cut From Original General Revenue Bill Is Now Around $6,000,000

SCHOOL FIGURES AGAIN REPLACED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 17.—The $12,000,000 cut from the original general appropriation bill in the house has been changed to effect a slash of only $6,000,000, according to information gathered from authoritative sources today. Before appropriation matters are finally settled there is a possibility that the cut will be reduced to approximately $3,500,000.

The governor's budget called for $12,000,000 and these figures were used when the appropriation bill for the ordinary expenses of the state government was introduced in the house. When the measure was passed finally in the house the bill provided for $116,209,503, exclusive of an item for the payment of the state police who heretofore had been paid by the general fund. The appropriations committee eliminated the item and held that they should be paid from the motor license fund. The difference between the governor's figures and the figures in the bill when it passed the house plus the state police item of $2,491,500 resulted in a saving to the general fund of $13,342,000.

To Restore Sum.
The senate appropriations committee which now holds the bill agreed to restore $7,000,000 which had been cut away in the house. Of this sum approximately $5,000,000 will go back into the bill for school subsidies, transportation of pupils and other education items. It is understood that $250,000 will be set aside for cattle indemnity and the remainder to make up $7,000,000 will be distributed to other departments, including the department of welfare for the continuance of the state hospitals at Coaldale and Shannock. In the funds for schools, provision is made for the continuing of the teachers' colleges at West Chester, California, Stroudsburg and Clarion, which had been dropped from the bill as amended in the house.

Want Information.
In the event the plan for state police payment is changed and the item of $2,491,500 is transferred back to the general fund, then the $7,000,000 restoration already agreed upon by the senate committee would be increased to $9,491,500, or a net cut in the general appropriation bill as originally introduced of only $3,854,500.

The Sterling committee plan of economy provides savings approximately $6,000,000, the amount which would be saved by the senate committee if the police item remains for payment from the motor fund.

State Treasurer Edward Martin's plea to the newspapers of the state today for information on relief needs in the commonwealth is expected here to have a far-reaching effect and as a result of the survey a new relief program may be determined upon.

and the governor. The resolution, because of constitutional provisions, cannot result other than voluntary cuts for elective officers but it would permit them to make return of part of their salaries to the state treasury. Under the provisions of the resolution the first $750 of each salary would be exempted from the twenty per cent cut proposed, the cut being applied to the remaining part of the salary. This procedure would result in a low cut for the small salaried employes while the official whose salary is in the higher brackets would be cut in amounts up to more than 19 per cent of the total salary.

The Howell resolution and the Turner economy bill, now in the Senate awaiting action, together make up the basis of the general appropriation bill now held by the Senate appropriations committee. This latter measure, already passed in the House, had had two readings in the Senate and when the appropriations committee returns it to the floor it will be placed on the third reading calendar for final action. Defeat of the Howell resolution in the House tonight would have a serious effect on the general appropriation bill because most of its items for various departmental salaries are based on reductions provided for in the resolution.

Reorganize Departments

The Turner bill which would reorganize the various state departments and result in the elimination of many bureaus and employees had hard sledding in the House. The Senate has not taken kindly to all of its provisions and if it is passed finally by the upper branch of the General Assembly it will be in different form than it was when transmitted by the House. Senate changes in the Turner bill will necessitate changes in the appropriation bill to make the two conform.

The Howell resolution, the Turner bill and the general appropriation bill are considered as companion measures designed to effect economies and provide additional moneys for unemployment relief. Thus far this session, the Legislature has appropriated a total of $7,000,000 for the unemployed, a bill carrying $5,000,000 of that total having been passed and approved by the governor last week. However, according to present calculations and demands, the money will be expended by June 1 when the new biennium begins, that before the present Legislature adjourns, it will be necessary for the members to provide relief for the ensuing two years or face another extraordinary session call.

"You'll take mine, or you'll take nothing" has been his attitude in this, as in everything else.

Martin maintained his opposition to readjustment of the foreign corporation tax because "tax increases are unwise."

If we increase the tax on foreign corporations Pennsylvania holders of their stock must be exempted from payment of Pennsylvania's four mill personal tax. "That exemption chairman asserted. 'That exemption would mean an increase in real estate taxes. And real estate is carrying a heavy enough load.'"

Martin stated that Pennsylvanians own as much stock in foreign corporations as they do under Pennsylvania corporations.

Would Give Wealth

CHICAGO, April 17.—"Return my boy and I will gladly give up everything I have."

That was the gesture of despair uttered today by John "Jake" the barber, multi-millionaire stock promoter, after four sleepless days and nights of search for his 19 year old kidnapped son, Jerome.

While Murray Humphreys, kingpin of the gang formerly headed by Al Capone, directed negotiations for payment of the $50,000 ransom demanded by the kidnappers, the nervous Factor, in an exclusive interview, gave voice to his agonized fears with surprising frankness.

Cautious only when he felt that a full expose of the situation would endanger the captive boy's life, Jake Factor paced the length of his large hotel suite, the focal point of the search for the kidnapped boy. He said:

Willing To Deal

"I am willing and eager to make any kind of a deal with the kidnapers that will bring back my boy. I am not crying poverty, but a lot of my money is tied up and I cannot realize on it in a hurry."

Factor is fighting extradition to England where he faces charges of having swindled British investors out of $7,000,000 in stock promotions. The former barber apparently had forgotten about his troubles abroad, so engrossed was he in the search for his abducted son.

"I want Jerome back under any circumstances and I'll gladly give all I have" Factor continued with a nervous gesture. "But I can't raise the kind of money they ask in a day or two; it is not humanly possible."

mented nothing more than severe imprisonment for five of the British defendants and six of the Russians. Vyshinsky ended his summation and the court recessed until 7 p. m.

Accuses British.

After dealing with William L. MacDonald and W. H. Thornton, Vyshinsky leveled his guns of criticism at Charles Nordwall, another of the British defendants.

"It has been definitely proved he was a member of the British secret service," Vyshinsky said, quoting the prisoners' own deposition.

The prosecutor admitted much of the evidence against Nordwall was based upon testimony by A. Lobanov, one of the Russian defendants.

"He was not a very reliable witness," Vyshinsky said, "but he is as reliable as the man he accuses."

The fact that Lobanov is the son of a former factory owner and thereby falls into the hated bourgeoisie class militates against him, Vyshinsky said. Lobanov confessed receiving 5,000 rubles and a fur coat from Nordwall in exchange for sabotage.

Nordwall insists the money was loaned and the coat given in appreciation of Lobanov's hard work for Metropolitan-Vickers.

Trade Agreement Lapses.

LONDON, April 17.—Anglo-Russian relations, strained by the trial of six British subjects on charges of sabotage, reached an acute state today with lapsing of the trade agreement between the two nations.

Cessation of the agreement deprived Russia's trade delegation in London of diplomatic immunity and relieved the Soviet of responsibility for any agreements, obligations or guarantees given on behalf of the government by the Soviet trade representatives.

It was evident that opinion in Whitehall circles has hardened against the Soviet government as a result of the trial, and it was believed Acting Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin would summon his ministers before the end of the week to lay down an embargo on Russian imports.

Postpone Egg Hunt Until Later Date

Weather Sunday Not Conducive To Outside Frolic Planned At Castle Mission

Owing to the unfavorable rainy weather the Castle Hill Mission announces that the program of children's song service and egg hunt scheduled for Easter Sunday afternoon has been postponed until next Sunday or the first clear Sunday afternoon to be successful.

Hundreds of children were on hand in spite of the rain yesterday but the open air egg hunt could not go on; the grass and Mission ground were in no fit condition for the games and exercises. The program, however, will go on the first nice Sunday beginning at 2 o'clock, with group singing by all present and organ selections by Esther I. Schmidt. Following this the egg hunt will get in full swing. There will be candy and Easter eggs for all children, with prizes of baby rabbits, bantam chickens and toys to the winners of the contests, which will be egg rolling, boys and girls races, blindfold hunting and children's games.

Sistie Is Director

Assisting Sistie in directing the first of the Roosevelt egg-rolling was her two-and-a-half year old brother "Buzzie" but the brunt of the work seemed to fall on the young lady because of her years.

Their new playground, which includes slides, swings, sandboxes and other contrivances, was a focal point for the youngsters.

The White House gates were thrown open at nine a. m. Each adult who gained admission had to be accompanied by a child of ten or under. The grounds were given over to the kids exclusively until 3:30 o'clock when the Marine Band arrives for a two hour concert to which the grown-ups are admitted.

As usual, there was some "racketeering" among slight seers by smart youngsters who picked up quite a few dimes escorting chubbier adults into the scene of action. With two gates to work, the young Arps were able to take their customers past the policemen presiding over one and then scamper out the other in quest of another victim.

Racket Is Worked

The White House police had set up their usual "lost and found" department, and before nightfall it was expected quite a few children would pass through the tender care of the Girl Scouts in attendance while their distracted guardians were sought.

This year's egg-rolling was an old fashioned one by edict of Mrs. Roosevelt. The first lady abandoned the Maypole and folk dancing that was essayed under direction of Mrs. Hoover, and put it squarely up to the youngsters to entertain themselves.

They seemed to succeed fairly well.

SAYS VERDICT WAS AGAINST EVIDENCE

Democrats Seek To Force Action On 30-Hour Bill

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Determined to free the Black 30-hour week bill from the legislative trap which has held it for more than a week, Senate Democratic spokesmen were ready today to invoke a drastic and little-used parliamentary weapon.

They planned to table the motion of Senator Trammell (D) of Florida to reconsider the vote by which the bill was approved.

The motion to table, allowing no debate, would automatically force a showdown on the Trammell motion. Trammell denounced this procedure as "gag rule."

Trammell sought another vote on the Black bill at the request of Florida cigar manufacturers, who declared that with a compulsory 30-hour week in effect their industry would be ruined by foreign competition.

A group of Highland United Presbyterian church troop scouts, winners of a recent patrol contest which the troop conducted, today were making plans for a trout fishing trip into Clearfield county for the near future. The trip was one of the rewards offered.

Troop 18 is at present in the midst of a new contest, started when the last one closed. Competition between patrols is reported as keen.

Members of the troop committee have arranged to show moving pictures to the Highland scouts at their meeting on April 25.

At an early session, the troop will name its first aid team for the county-wide contest on April 21.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

THE State Departments of Health, Welfare, Forests and Waters, and the Bureau of Fire Protection, State Police, have designed the week beginning Monday, April 17, as CLEAN-UP WEEK.

The annual custom has always resulted in developing a state-wide interest in sanitation and the removal of nuisances and fire hazards.

Cities, boroughs, small communities and individuals throughout the Commonwealth are again urged to cooperate with the Departments in the observance of these activities.

The following is suggested as a general guide for this observance:

MONDAY—APRIL 17, HIGHWAY DAY. All sidewalks and streets should be cleaned, gutters cleared, ditches opened and sewers flushed.

TUESDAY—APRIL 18, FORESTRY DAY. Leaves, briars, brush and dead grass should be cleaned away from roadsides and from around cabins and homes in the forest, either by carrying them into the woods where, if scattered, they will decay, or by burning. Debris should be burned in or near the forest on damp days only. The brush piles should be kept small.

Never burn on a dry day, windy day and beware of a still day in spring for breezes spring up quickly and may carry sparks for great distances.

WEDNESDAY—APRIL 19, FLY AND MOSQUITO DAY. All cesspools should be cleaned and limed. Out-houses should be made fly-proof and stable yards, pig pens and chicken coops cleaned. Water holes should be filled, spouting mended and garbage cans thoroughly cleansed and scoured.

THURSDAY—APRIL 20, JUNK DAY. The accumulation of junk and trash, particularly in attics and cellars, consisting of old books, papers, clothes, rags, bottles, cans and ashes should be removed. In addition, cellars should be thoroughly cleaned and whitewashed.

WIELDING THE AXE

Achievement of real economy to an extent never before known in the national government is the aim of President Roosevelt, if reports outlining his reorganization plans are correct. The axe already is being wielded with sweeping strokes, but hardly a start has been made. Whole bureaus are falling beneath its blows and others are being trimmed and pruned until they represent little resemblance to their former selves.

In the reforms under way, the director of the budget, Mr. Douglas, is playing an important part. Under directions from the president, he is said to have told each department head just how much money can be spent and that none in excess of this amount will be forthcoming. Pay reductions totaling $100,000,000 have been ordered and, including these, economies in four departments alone aggregate more than $300,000,000. These departments are post office, agriculture, commerce and interior.

Much of the service to be eliminated has been regarded in the past as of importance. The president, however, apparently is proceeding on the belief that as long as no essential service is wiped out or seriously crippled, general elimination or restriction is justified, by the urgent demands of economy.

There is no doubt that his program when completed—and even in the process of being carried out—will arouse the hostility of particular groups and be assailed by politicians. This should prove of minor consideration, however. It is the big purpose—the benefit to the country as a whole—on which the president needs to keep his eyes. It is not improbable that some mistakes will be made. These can be corrected later.

RUTH OWEN'S DIPLOMATIC POST

The appointment of Ruth Bryan Owen to be Minister to Denmark has attracted wide and favorable attention throughout the country. She is the first woman in the United States to receive a high diplomatic post. That she will fill it intelligently and efficiently is not to be doubted. It is not too much to say that the president has made a double strike in this unusual selection. In the first place, Mrs. Owen has won recognition on her own merits. She made a very successful member of congress and won the regard of her associates and the country by her tact and industry. In the second place, it will be taken as a tribute to the memory of William Jennings Bryan. Thousands of his admirers will be delighted at the honor paid to his daughter.

Finally, it will be hailed with delight by many women of the country. It is a unique compliment to the sex, and it sets a precedent that is likely to be followed by other presidents. Women in politics or public service seem to have come to stay. It may be said that thousands of them will never take much interest in politics, but that can be said of an equal number of men.

In any event, with one woman in the cabinet and another as Minister to Denmark, the members of the fair sex have every reason to be satisfied.

OBSCURE HEROES

The monuments which nearly all nations that took part in the World War have erected to their "unknown heroes" symbolize the sense of national obligation and gratitude to those whose sacrifices cannot be acknowledged in any other way. Pathetically futile as to those thus honored, these expressions of a public regret which comes too late are worth while, and suggestive in other spheres than that of armed conflict.

Peace also has its great multitude of unknown heroes and heroines, quite as noble, and sometimes nobler than those of war. Many of them, perhaps pass away without public recognition, and, in most of them, without feeling that they have in any way deserved it. But it is a deed, without feeling that they have in any way deserved it, that makes them fully known at least in the communities they have served. makes them fully known at least in the communities they have served.

The noblest deed doesn't always receive the greatest acclaim. The greatest sacrifice may go without reward. Many a true hero has gone undiscovered and unsung, and, by the same token, many a renegade has been made the undeserving object of the hero worship. But it is a source of some satisfaction that every man's true worth is known to his intimate associates, who are not to be censured if they are lacking in Boswellian traits.

The historian who says times passed more slowly in medieval times hasn't been affected by the depression.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Things to remember forever and forever and forever. Things to remember though the sun grows cold and men betray and the heart wears of its struggle. Though the gray hair thickens, and the old friends pass and the shadows lengthen across your life. Little things that "don't amount to much at the time" but keep coming back to you, to lighten and distract. Things to remember.

Seeing the ocean for the first time, too. The white of the breakers, the crash of them on the great rocks, the smell of the sea and all the little creatures that wait or scuttle in the leftover waters at your feet.

A baby—a tiny soft, pink thing—yawning sweetly.

A puppy. His feet braced firmly his tail wagging. His mouth open, his tongue out. His eyes laughing. Waiting for you to throw that ball.

White clouds in a night sky and the moon racing through them.

Sunlight drifting through an orchard on a pretty girl in a white dress (And any girl is pretty in such an orchard.)

Visitors arriving, and a small girl rushing eagerly with flushed face around the house to see what's happening—and then, suddenly, as shy as any deer.

Another little girl making her first biscuits, and oh! so proud of them.

A little boy being bullied by bigger boys, but standing his ground and refusing either to cry or to run away home.

A winter night and all the trees slanting high above the line and a great bomb bursting like a red poppy—and the terrible beauty of it.

In the war, and green artillery signals floating high above the line and a great bomb bursting like a red poppy—and the terrible beauty of it.

REALLY GOOD MORNING

"Really good manners are the result of a kindly feeling," says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Arrogant, insolent, fault-finding, unsympathetic persons are devoid of the essence of good manners. Apparently they think that a commanding voice, austere exterior and a sharp, cutting crispness shows them far removed from the commonplace things of life.

But the one whose heart is filled with kindly feeling would find it impossible to assume the attitude of a haughty snob or an over-bearing boss.

The kind heart gives praise when deserved and tries not to say things which would hurt the pride of one holding even the lowest of all positions.

Kindly-feeling persons desire to make life happy and hopeful for others.

They respect the trustworthy and worthwhile wherever they find it.

They are not slow to give credit where it is due.

They don't indulge in back-biting.

They seek to impress others with enough generous, kindly feeling to bring out the best from all with whom they have contact.

Because they are sincere their manners carry conviction and those of lowly station are among the first to recognize it and are put at ease.

PRESS COMES THROUGH

The Akron disaster brings to a close one of the busiest periods in the history of the press, one which taxed to the utmost its mental and physical resources and proved its ability in the face of any emergency.

The country was horrified at an attempted assassination and it was shocked at the death of a newly appointed cabinet member. It smiled grimly through a banking crisis and it found confidence in an inaugural address. It applauded the return of an earthquake and it is now mourning the loss of those naval heroes who went down to the sea with their ship in one of the worst disasters in recent years.

Any one of these events would have been news for a year. Yet they all happened in a short space of six weeks. And in that brief period the press carried on, serving its public in the traditional manner.

Tradition Gets Heavy Blow In Veterans' Pay Reduction

President Roosevelt's Action In Face Of Ancient Policy Of War Compensation Inspires National Tributes To Executive Courage

Cutting of $400,000,000 from veterans' compensation by order of President Roosevelt is recognized by the country as a reversal of the traditional policy of great liberality to those who have served in war. The action is credited to courage on the part of the Executive, in view of ancient practice and modern political expediency.

"It is simply an unprecedented performance in American public finance," says the NEW YORK TIMES, while recognizing that "no other way could he have even approximately redeemed his campaign pledge to save 25 per cent of the government expenses." The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST recalls that "to Grover Cleveland belongs the credit for the first stand" on veterans' compensation, and The Post exclaims: "How that sturdy statesman would rejoice at the sturdy statesman of his successor!"

The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, however, points out that "with the $400,000,000 cut from pensions by President Roosevelt, the expenditure on account of the veterans still will be about equal to the combined cost of maintaining the Army and the Navy."

"Times have changed," observed the RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH. "Economy had to be practiced. It was fortunate that a President who was not afraid to act." The SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS adds that "in the spirit of the service they gave to their country in another crisis, the veterans will accept the present action with fortitude." The LINCOLN JOURNAL holds that "the President must be congratulated for handling this matter in a brave, fair way." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL comments: "He could do no less. His own high sense of honor compelled it. The election situation demanded it. The budget situation demanded it. The future, as well as the present, welfare of the nation required it."

"The attack is made," explained the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "upon the compensation which has been awarded to veterans who returned to this country in that condition discharged from the service. Millions of them never left the country in the World War, yet under the laws which have been passed by Congress, many of them have been awarded compensation for non-service-connected disabilities. President Roosevelt has done the country a necessary service, and the veterans themselves undoubtedly will realize this to be a fact. It is a service which must be distasteful to the Chief Executive. It is a service that required real courage to perform."

"Full provision is made, in some cases increased," according to the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, "for those who were disabled by war and for the dependents of those who died in it. This is the first debt of America, and has to be paid no matter what else must be omitted or curtailed. Provision is also made for disabilities in peacetime military service, and even for the more severely disabled whose condition was not caused by the war. Most of the non-service disabilities are cut out, but there is no provision for reconsideration of these cases prior to the date of the next payments. This is a sacrifice, by men who sacrificed before, but it comes at a time when everybody else is sacrificing also."

"The President's position on the subject" in the opinion of the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, "is one of the most valuable of his presidential or potential accomplishments. He has cut the Gordian knot of politico-veteran insurance in government in such a decisive fashion as to merit in the eyes of the people a great organized group, exploited the nobility of war sacrifices in order to keep afloat the puny bubble of his own political expediency. The new judgment, and restores the self-respect of the veteran."

"The retrenchments square with the pledges of both parties," states the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REPUBLICAN, "and the President's action is a good thing as well as good government. The RUTLAND HERALD adds that it took "nervous resolution and a very high type of patriotism." The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT offers judgment: "Temporary readjustment to some of the country's service men will be a real hardship, and we regret this, but the economic good which the United States as a whole is sure to gain from the present reform will be large, and in that gain all will share, veterans and plain citizens alike."

Missionaries Endangered By Japanese Bombs

Japanese Planes Inflict Damage On City Of Changli, In China Proper

CHINESE OFFER
NO RESISTANCE

Entire Chinese Army Defending North China Is Reported In Retreat

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PEIPING, April 17.—Gravely endangering the lives of American missionaries, Japanese airplanes bombed the city of Changli, in China proper, today.

The planes dropped five bombs near an American Methodist mission in the city, while Chinese troops evacuated the district before the Japanese onslaught.

Chinese Retreating
The entire army defending North China was reported retreating to the south bank of the Luan river, pursued by Japanese planes dropping a hail of leaden death.

The reports of the bombing near the mission in Changli were received by the railway headquarters station master here. Changli is situated 40 miles southwest of the walled city of Shanhaikwan, which is at the point where the great wall meets the sea.

Pledge Allegiance

Residents of the city were reported to have pledged allegiance to Manchukuo, Japan's puppet state in Manchuria.

Previously, heavy fighting was reported near Peitaiho, following capture of Chingwangtao by the Japanese.

The Japanese forces captured Chingwangtao and raised their bat-tleflags over its walls without meeting organized resistance.
Lieutenant Joseph G. Felber of the U. S. army rescribed to International News Service his experiences in watching Japanese planes prepare the path for the capture of the city.

Nine Japanese bombers, he said, dropped bombs for six hours on Chinese troops entrenched in the village a few hundred yards from the Chingwangtao camp of the 15th
United States Infantry regiment.

Without Fighting
The Chinese, he said, evacuated
without fighting.
United States marines in the district were first informed by International News Service that their camp is now in Manchukuo territory.

The marines pointed out that occupation of Chingwangtao by the Japanese, cutting off communication with the U. S. army docks at Peiping and Tientsin, may force the American Transport Henderson, due in a few weeks, to anchor outside Taku.

Stores To Observe Daylight Savings

Will Go Along With Industries, Banks, And Other Establishments

New Castle merchants will observe daylight savings time during the coming summer, it was decided,
and when the times changes on Sunday, April 30, they will be found among those in the city who are following the custom which has been in force here for some years.

Following the decision of the industries to adopt daylight time, starting April 30, the schools, banks, auto dealers, and many others signified their intention of going along in the matter. Although there were a few who voiced their disapproval, a majority of the merchants decided to go along in the matter.

As a result, New Castle will turn its clocks ahead one hour at midnight Saturday, April 29, which time change will be in force until late in September.

Lyon Urges Public Give 'Y' Support

Association's Head Sees Real Need For It—Membership Drive Near

GEORGE E. LYON

Praising the work of the city's Y. M. C. A., George E. Lyon, president of the board of directors of the institution, issued the following statement today on the eve of the opening of the association's annual membership drive tomorrow night:

To the citizens of New Castle:
A year is a year in the growth and development of our boys. They had nothing to do with the World War or the depression; nevertheless, they are suffering losses that vitally affect the future of our nation. The conditions of today are not unlike the conditions in the time of war.
Our worthwhile boys are our secondary line of defense and therefore, cannot be neglected.

This is a year when the need for character and spiritual development is felt to be very important. Unless our community makes further provision, the Christian training which we have given boys, will be wasted.
They have a spiritual need, can the Y. M. C. A. develop it? (I think so.)
Last year in Pennsylvania 6,883 were enrolled in Bible study, 300,000 more who were in their teens and helping to support families were worked with and supervised by Y. M. C. A.'s.
Local Y. M. C. A.'s, in this part of Pennsylvania, have promoted more than 100 Father and Son Banquets.
I cannot speak too highly of the Hi-Y Clubs of this community, especially the Senior Hi-Y Club of our own High School. These clubs are holding up a high standard of Christian character and have for their slogan, "Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship and Clean Living."

Social and economic conditions today have largely deprived many boys of wholesome restraints and parental fellowship. It is this class of boys that our local institution is trying to help. We feel that there is a need of higher ideals between sexes, a keener appreciation of moral standards. There is danger that such youth may take very seriously the popular cry of a freer and easier moral code. To avert this, there is need for adults and youth to work together. There is need for a wholesome occupation. There is need for a finer type of citizenship.
Our state Y. M. C. A. is doing much to cooperate with our local Y. M.
C. A. In other words, the Y. M. C.
A., being a Christian organization C.
and undenominational, is in a position to fill a great need in this time of social and economic distress. It is well organized not only in religious instruction, but in athletics and other things which build up the physique of a boy. He is taught to be stronger both mentally and morally.

We, as a public, cannot let down the character building institution of which our local Y. M. C. A. is one of this great group. Let us give public support to this excellent piece of constructive work for our city,
our state, and our nation.
Sincerely yours,
GEO. E. LYON,
President, New Castle Y. M. C. A.

PLANTS PUT ON MORE MEN AT BEAVER

NEW BRIGHTON, April 17.—
Business conditions here as improving. The Towne's plant at Paliston, that had been operating two days a week for several months, has been operating in full during the past two weeks, employing more than 200 men. The Sherwood Brothers pottery is also busy, due to a demand for its products in the beer business. Local clay mine owners declare the demand for clay has also increased.

VISITING MINISTER HAS CLOTHES STOLEN

WAYNESBURG, Pa., April 17.—
Waynesburg police are looking for a disappointed sneak thief who stole a frock coat and trousers to match from the car of Rev. W. Grant Ward of Montpelier, O., who came here to be guest pastor at the Waynesburg Christian church today. When he appeared before the congregation in street clothing to preach the Easter sermon, Rev. Ward told of the theft.

Guaranteed Internal Treatment For Stubborn PILES

Don't be a pessimist—just because other folks are behind the times is no reason why you should not try modern methods.

All piles come from the same cause—remove the cause by taking Hem-Roid (tablets) 3 times a day and your pile troubles will soon be over.

Ask Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. for any live druggist about this wonderful prescription of a doctor who has studied the treatment of piles for years and remember this—no matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them or how stubborn or severe—one bottle will show you the easy, clean way to be rid of them or money back—ask for Hem-Roid.

A New Jersey man writes: "I cannot praise Hem-Roid high enough.
My trouble has gone—it has returned
my health." (Name on request.)

Test Prospective Operators Tuesday

State Highway patrolmen will test applicants for motor vehicle operator's permits in Sampson street Tuesday. The examinations will start at 10 a. m. and end at three
p. m. The applicants will be examined in the order in which they arrive. Learners should have their learner's permit, registration card for the vehicle to be used in the driving test and be accompanied by a licensed operator.

BOUQUETS AND BEES AID TO APPLE TREES

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 17.—
Bouquets and bees in apple trees increased the yield of a 20 acre orchard in Berks county 16,100 bushels over a period of three years, according to J. U. Ruef, fruit extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

In the Peerless Orchards at Hamburg, the 20 acre block of Red Dol-licious trees never had exceeded 1-800 bushels a year. Bouquets of blossoms known to be good pollin-izers were placed in the trees.

A New Jersey man writes: "I cannot praise Hem-Roid high enough.
My trouble has gone—it has returned
my health." (Name on request.)

At the meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church a recommendation was offered and adopted that the Christian people of the city only patronize places that do not sell beer.
A splendid address on "Banking" was given by E. E. McGill and led to a discussion of banking problems.

The churches will adopt daylight savings time for the services, beginning with April 30.

Rushing Work Of Installing Machinery At Union Brewery

With any kind of breaks at all, the Union Brewery on Sampson street will be converting grain into beer by May 1, it is stated today by Albert F. Grotend, brewmaster in charge of production, and an inspection of the plant verifies this. What machinery is not yet installed is being rushed from the factories and once received, men will work day and night getting it into place.

There is nothing at the Union Brewery to remind you of the old Standard Brewery except the outside of the building. Inside, partitions have been taken out, floors are newly laid, walls are newly plastered, cork insulation is to be placed over the walls, and all the machinery and equipment is new. From the sixth floor to the cellar everything is new and modern, for back of the urge to start the brewery is the idea that Union beer must rank with the best beer in the United States. It will not be marketed until the officials have satisfied themselves they have a brew that is light.

Enormous Tanks and Vats.
One is impressed with the size of the equipment that has been installed. The new copper brew kettle is 5000 gallons in capacity, the mash tanks, the rice, the malt hopper and the water tanks, both hot and cold, are enormous in size, while the tanks in which the beer will cool and age are 200 barrels in size and there are many of these. Equipment must be adequate to turn out 60,000 barrels of beer per year for this is the mark set for the first year. Eventually the brewery expects to be turning out 100,000 barrels per year.

The brewmaster, Albert F. Grotend, Jr., is rated as one of the master brewers in the country. He comes from a family of brewers dating back over a century. Years ago his family was engaged in brewing in Germany and to this family tradition and experience Mr. Grotend has added a course in the Zymotechnic Institute of Technology and Siebel's Brewing academy in Chicago, Ill. He has had 25 years' actual experience.

Use Local Products.

Insofar as it is possible all materials going into the brewery and to be used by them, will be bought locally. The boxes to be used for shipping the product will be made by the local box plant and everything else used will be bought here if possible. When the brewery gets into production there will be approximately 65 men employed, and the plan now is to run the plant day and night.

The Union Brewing company is officiated by New Castle men. The president is Louis G. Genkinger, who is a city councilman and also president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce. The vice president is Max Ludwig, well known local business man. The secretary and treasurer is Dr. Hyman Frank, while the general manager will be E. O. Haun.

One executive will be brought in from New York, John E. Kenney, but he is married to a New Castle girl, the former Miss Lena Green. Mr. Kenney will have the title of assistant secretary-treasurer and also will utilize his engineering experience in the operation of the plant. He is a graduate of Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech and has been engaged in his profession as an engineer for some years.

Just now there is a atmosphere about the brewery. Workmen are installing equipment, others are remodeling the plant. Still others will soon be engaged in remodeling and enlarging the bottling plant and the cooper's shop. Settling tanks are to be installed and also the governmental tanks. Every gallon of beer turned out must go through the governmental vats and be metered out for tax return and for inspection by the government agents.

The refrigeration for the new brewery will be all electric and two 250 horse power boilers will be located in the boiler room. Only the best materials available will be used in manufacture, according to Mr. Grotend. The product must be good, he says, before it will be offered for sale.

GAVE UP GOLD COIN KEPT AS KEPSAKE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 17.—Just as it sometimes takes difficult tasks to reveal a person's true value, it took the national emergency to bring out the patriotism of one Pittsburgh man.

Cheerfully responding to the government's plea for release of gold holdings, this citizen proffered a $5 gold coin, minted in 1834, to a clerk in the Pittsburgh postoffice.

"I've had this coin in the family as a keepsake," he said. "But I have to set my own wishes aside where the country's concerned. So here's the $5."

The difficulty encountered in devising tax legislation is that it is not easy to so frame the law that it is always the other fellow who pays the tax.

Among those who fared forth on the first day of the trout season was Rev. D. L. Ferguson, Highland U. P. church who is an ardent user of the flyer. However, the clergyman did not have any luck although one struck but wouldn't strike again, according to those fishing with the minister.

C. W. Seiple, New Wilmington, caught trout in the Little Neshannock and Dan McQuiston got several. Attorney Walter Braham came home with some trout and according to fishermen, "Dike" Blair caught the biggest trout he has caught in years. W. R. Jones, Sr., had fairly good luck in Taylor Run.

Share Work Plan Approved By Council

Eight Men To Gather Information For Occupational Tax Purposes

Upon recommendation of Director of Finance Albert Hoyland, council today gave him authority to employ eight assistants to the city assessor who is making the triennial assessment. The assistants will be hired at the rate of 50 cents an hour and will collect information for occupational tax purposes. He said that by hiring eight men it will give them all a chance to secure a little employment. The present assessor is Andrew Sands. George Lusk is aiding him in making the property assessments for 1934, 1935 and 1936.

Peterson Property Has Been Repaired

Councilmen stood up today during their session at the city hall and saluted Attorney Dick Dana.

The lawyer had come into council relative to the repairs the city had caused to be made at the Peterson property, North Jefferson street, which had been struck by a fire truck.

"The property is fixed up and I thought it proper to come before you gentlemen and thank you. It looks fine," said Dana.

"I believe we should stand up and salute Attorney Dana," declared councilman Treser, implying that it is not often council is given thanks for doing things.

Council jestingly followed Treser's suggestion.

Requests Change In West Side Zone

W. W. Walls appeared before council today and said he is in favor of changing from a residential to a secondary business zone both sides of West Washington street, between Lee avenue to the city line. A request for the change was presented in the form of a petition to council at their Friday meeting. Councilmen, who met today in the municipal building instructed Mr. Walls to present a petition which will be checked by the engineer, then referred to the planning commission for a recommendation. He claims he owns a lot which is available for business purposes.

Sunrise Service Is Held In-Doors

Weather Interferes With Program Scheduled For Hillside, Sunday

THREE HUNDRED AT SERVICE IN CHURCH

Easter dawned wet and gray, but inside the First Christian church, on the Diamond, a worshipful throng of 300 persons met early to joyously proclaim again the eternal promise that "Christ is risen."

Had the weather not been inclement, the group would have assembled outdoors near the old Shenango Valley hospital, for the program.

Community Attends
It was a community audience that heard Dr. L. H. Beeler, professor of history at Grove City College, deliver a message appropriate to Easter. Fourteen different young people's groups, including Hi-Y clubs and branches of the New Castle District Young People's Council, had arranged the affair, inviting the old and young of every denomination.

Almost at 6:15 a. m. sharp, Arch McClintock sounded the shrill notes of "Taps" and William Powell answered back a bugle message of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Then Miss Elizabeth Milholland recited a fitting Easter poem, following which Gil Brown read the morning Scripture from I Corinthians, 15: 35-58. John Stump followed with a prayer.

R. E. Johns led the audience as it joined in the Easter hymns, while Albert Taylor presided at the organ and Miss Camille Smith at the piano.

A feature of the service was the appearance of the large young people's choir of the First M. E. church, directed by Mr. Taylor. First M. E. organist.

Dr. Beeler Heard
"It's our biggest task, the task to which we must consecrate ourselves—that of making the Holy Day a hollower day and not a holiday," Dr. Beeler told the throng as he sounded the keynote of his morning message. The Grove City College man reminded the audience of attempts now being made to undermine the Sabbath, to transform it into a holiday instead of a holy day.

Dr. Beeler kept his remarks centered on the Calvary theme, stressing the thought that to Christians today there abounds opportunity for reconsecrating anew—for resurrecting—ourselves to right the many wrongs.

"Keeping the Holy Day holy is our greatest task of this resurrection hour," Dr. Beeler concluded. Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, seated with Dr. Beeler on the platform, pronounced the benediction.

Co-operating to hold the service were Hi-Y clubs and young people's groups of the First M. E., First Presbyterian, Central Presbyterian, First Christian, Christian Missionary Alliance, Highland U. P., Central Christian, Mahoning Presbyterian, St. John's Lutheran, First Baptist and Croton M. E. churches. The service was one of several morning programs conducted throughout the city.

British "Prime Ministress" Coming

Miss Isabel MacDonald is the constant companion of her father, the British prime minister. When Miss MacDonald and father visited America in 1929. Miss Isabel MacDonald. Miss MacDonald on golf course with father.

By Central Press
WASHINGTON, April 17—Washington again prepares to welcome Isabel MacDonald—whom London has aptly called "British prime ministress."
Perhaps it would be wiser to say that Miss MacDonald is the power that governs the prime minister's personal activities.
It is she who guards his health, which is none too good. (He was 66 last October.) It is she who flies with him, crosses the ocean with him, golfs with him, and is mistress of his official residence in London, at No. 10 Downing street.
When she first was hostess at the prime minister's residence, she was only 21. She now is 30. Despite her youth, the rank that is hers socially—next to the queen—has not swayed her. The remains simple, fresh and democratic.
A true Scottish child (her name is Gaelic for Isabel), Miss MacDonald early had the burdens of a household shifted upon her shoulders. Although her mother, Margaret Gladstone, was an English aristocrat, Isabel is of the Socialist leanings that were her father's in his youthful days.
When her mother died, girlhood pleasures disappeared. The burdens that she took then, as a very young girl, have remained hers. Withal, she found time to become a member of that busy and powerful body, the London County Council. Therefore, Americans who come into contact with her may find she knows a wee bit more concerning politics than they do.
She knows, too, of poverty and slums as well as kings and prime ministers. She has not hesitated to peer into the worst of life—and has been a powerful force behind the throne for the weal of the people.

Girl Scouts To Support Selves When Grown Up
Businesses And Professions Have Appeal For Youngsters, Poll Shows
The fact was plainly indicated in a poll made recently.
Over 96 percent of scouts in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and Washington, D. C. expect to make their own living. Sixty-six prefer professional careers, twenty-five per cent want to enter business. Teaching is the favorite profession, nursing a fairly close second, and musician and artist respectively, a poor third and fourth. Stenographer and secretary were about equally popular for places in the business world, though neither rivaled teaching.

Controlled Currency Expansion Is Forecast

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 17—The administration will propose a "controlled expansion of the currency" before the present session of congress ends, unless other relief measures materially improve economic conditions, it was reliably reported today on Capitol Hill.

President Roosevelt personally favors some form of expanding the currency to offset depreciated foreign currencies and to restore the American market to American goods, it was stated. He will withhold action for the present to determine whether enactment of the pending farm relief bill, a railroad reorganization measure, and a new public works act will obviate the need for "finkering with the currency."

One administration leader said the president would propose currency expansion by June unless agricultural and industrial conditions improved materially by that time. This authority declared the president was restrained from asking congress for currency expansion now, only because such a course was opposed by many of his fiscal advisers. There seemed little doubt but that congress would promptly enact such a program. In the house, Rep. Steagall (D) of Alabama, chairman of the house banking and currency committee, predicted the house would promptly pass such a bill, if the president asked it. In the Senate, Senator Wheeler (D) Montana declared the senate would be likewise "at a mere nod from Mr. Roosevelt."

MEETINGS CLOSING AT FREE METHODIST
Miss Lydia Ann Troyer, the girl evangelist who has been at the First Free Methodist church, Arlington avenue, for the past two weeks, will preach the concluding sermon tonight and will bring to a close the

Her work and her pleasing manner have won for her a host of friends in this community and will not soon be forgotten. Song and praise service at 7:30, followed by evangelistic services.

HOUSE TO FAVOR ARMS EMBARGO POWER

Believe Measure Will Pass House

Senate May Not Give Approval However; Believe Measure Is Dangerous

PRESIDENT WOULD HAVE GREAT POWER

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The house today prepared to take a far-reaching step in the "new deal" in foreign relations by voting the president power to join other nations in declaring arms embargoes.

Despite the determined opposition of Republican leaders, aided by some Democrats, administration spokesmen were confident the McReynolds resolution will be adopted by a big vote.

A more difficult time was expected in the senate, although a similar resolution was approved in that body during the recent "lame duck" session.

Fear of War!

Administration leaders in the house, denying an arms embargo would be imposed against Japan, frankly declared there is fear of an outbreak of war in Europe.

Under the terms of the resolution, the president would cooperate with other nations in denying war munitions to the nations inaugurating hostilities.

This provision, opponents declare, links the nation with the League of Nations, scraps the country's 150-year-old neutrality policy and invites war.

Rep. McReynolds (D) of Tennessee, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, insisted the resolution is not dangerous.

"It makes for peace," he said, "and we can be sure the president will exercise the power wisely."

Young People In Sunrise Service

Dawn Service Is Conducted On Easter At Second U. P. Church

LIGHTED CROSS ADDS TO PROGRAM

Beautifully and solemnly impressive was the dawn service in the Second United Presbyterian church at 6:15 Easter morning. The young people of the Epworth Methodist, the First United Presbyterian and the Second churches joined in the program, with the crowd filling the auditorium.

The church lights were dimmed and the service conducted by a lighted cross. No announcements were made and a worshipful, devout atmosphere spread over the congregation as the story of Christ's last week, crucifixion and resurrection was told in Scripture and song, with Mrs. W. J. Caldwell directing the singing.

Concluding the service breakfast was served the young people, and after breakfast Homer Welch of Grove City, who has been conducting the chorus choir of the church evangelistic services the past two weeks, and a group of about 40 young people, went in automobiles to the Almira Home, the county home and to the homes of several shut-ins and sang Easter songs. The other services in the church throughout the day were well attended, with 40 new members being received into the church and 14 children and nine adults baptized.

Quiet Prevailing At Republic Mine Near Uniontown, Pa.

No Disorders As Ten Men Disregard Strike And Enter Mine Pit Today

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 17.—With general quiet prevailing at the Republic mine of the Republic Iron and Steel company at Republic, near here, officials of the concern today charged that the present strike had been brought about by "imported leaders from West Virginia."

The company officials did not amplify their statement. Only ten men entered the mine for work today. They were brought to the workings by bus, observes reported. Notices had been sent out to 200 workers by the company, it was said. A picket line was formed near the mine entrance but no disorder occurred as the men entered the pit, deputy sheriffs announced.

Three men and three women, arrested at the mine Saturday, as strikers and sympathizers staged a demonstration, will be given hearings tonight before Alderman Frank R. Foster, of Uniontown. They are charged with inciting to riot and disorderly conduct.

Almira Home Easter Service

number; readings were given by Camilla Smith and Jean Casselman, and the group joined in the singing of hymns.

Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts gave a most inspiring talk on "Service" and at the conclusion of the program each of the women in the home was presented with a flower.

Annual Meeting Of Margaret Henry Home Occurs On Saturday

Officers and directors were elected, and the report of the condition of the institution given Saturday afternoon when the annual meeting of the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home was held in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The election resulted in the same officers and directors being chosen, the results being as follows: President Marcus Feuchtwanger, honorary president, David S. Pyle; vice president Charles W. Read; secretary, C. L. McMillen and treasurer, Thomas W. Dickey. The directors are Rufus C. Patterson, Samuel Klaffer, Joseph Hannon, Alex Crawford Hoyt, Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Judge James A. Chambers, Roger W. Rowland, Frank A. Schultz, James W. Barnes, Fred C. Wolford, Hon. George T. Weingartner.

President's Report
Aside from the officers and directors present a number of citizens who are interested in the welfare of the home were present and interested themselves in the proceedings.

The president's report to the directors follows:
The Margaret L. Henry Children's Home was founded by Miss Henry in 1903. She supported the institution by her personal efforts and over a period of time interested several of the people of New Castle. She continued the work on this basis, attracting more friends as she went along. Better quarters were secured as the years went on and the scope of her work broadened.

In the early part of 1922 it was finally decided by Miss Henry and her patrons that the institution would be of greater service to the community and its future more securely established if it were incorporated. This was done in May 1922 the citizens of New Castle raised $17,000.00. The home and grounds were purchased at the ridiculously low figure of $5,000.00. The remainder of the money was used to make necessary improvements. Further additions and improvements have been made until at the present time the value of the home is placed at slightly under $40,000.00.

Since 1912 the work of this splendid institution has been carried on and assumed a position of considerable importance in this community. The institution is strictly charitable and non-sectarian, taking care of children regardless of the ability of any person to contribute to their support. Some children are placed in the home by the county and other children who are received from widows or widowers are in some cases partially supported.

Facts
Established September 2, 1903.
Incorporated as a Pennsylvania Corporation May 1922.
Non-sectarian.
Charter provides for a Board of Directors comprised of members of various faiths.

The community has provided a home worth in the neighborhood of $40,000.00.

Average number of children taken care of at the home—48.
Children between ages 4 to 12, both boys and girls, are admitted.

Supported largely by public contributions derived from participation in the Community Chest.

Health Record
Proper medical attention is provided at all times by a staff of doctors which has resulted in an especially fine record from a health standpoint. A separate building is being used as an isolation hospital.

At the present writing the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home is caring for 22 boys; 33 girls; totalling 55 children.

Of this number we have 5 boys and 8 girls, totalling 13 children, which are being maintained by the county. The other 32 cases are our wards for which no remuneration is received but must be cared for in the way of housing, feeding and clothing the same as if we were being paid for them.

The work of this institution has always been handicapped by a lack of sufficient funds and we believe that the citizens of New Castle feel that the institution of such a character as is the Margaret L. Henry Children's Home should have their unequalled support at all times. The difficulties which existed in the past have been considerably aggravated by the present economic conditions. We find that our number of charity wards has materially increased and is still rapidly increasing. Your president finds that the amount of money which we can reasonably expect to raise for the coming year will be insufficient to carry on the work and properly care for the children as they should be cared for. In this connection your president wishes to advise that the outlook of receiving our monthly quota from the Community Chest looks very dubious, and that some means should be taken to place the institution on a proper working basis.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS SCORED BY PINCHOT

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 17.—Blame for the loss of $10,000 daily in revenue from a beer tax was thrust upon the Republican organization today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot in a statement that scored Republican leaders for their stand on relief legislation.

Gen. Edward Martin, state Republican chairman, Senator John J. McClure, Delaware, and organization leaders were accused of breaking their promise to rush through a beer tax bill. This delay was taken to "permit the brewers to clean up" the governor charged.

Governor Pinchot also blamed Martin for delaying action on unemployment relief legislation by opposing a readjustment of the foreign corporation tax.

"Foreign corporations doing business in Pennsylvania actually pay less than Pennsylvania corporations doing an equal volume of business," the governor asserted. "General Martin refuses to have that discrimination wiped out." Among the corporations Martin was accused of protecting were three "in which the Mellons are deeply interested." It was estimated that adjustment of the tax would affect 6,000 foreign corporations.

"If this injustice is removed Pennsylvania can provide $3,000,000 more for the unemployed and the reconstruction finance corporation will match it," the chief executive stated. "But General Martin stands squarely in the way."

The governor questioned the necessity of the relief questionnaires sent to all newspaper editors by Martin.

"I would like to know why General Martin, a member of the state emergency relief board, found it necessary to ask such questions?" the governor asked. "He ought to know the answers already. It would look that way to a man up a tree."

Under the court's opinion the Research Company gets the equipment.

Hans Wagner Is Still Popular On Ball Field

Wagner With Pittsburgh Pirates This Year Draws Attention From Fans

GREATEST HITTER GAME HAS KNOWN

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 17.—Mellowed though he is by the unyielding hand of time and slowed to a standstill, Hans Wagner, now John Peter, is still a figure to conjure with among the baseball people.

And once a pirate, always a pirate. That's the 59 year old Pittsburgh coach, who goes back to the days of Cap Anson and when ball players were ball players. There are those who will go to the ball park today to see the Cubs and Pirates play baseball, but there will be others who will go there to see the hulk of the man who was the greatest shortstop in the history of the game.

For sixteen years this uncanny man never hit under .300. He led the league in hitting for eight years and for more years than that he was the arch-nemesis of batters who couldn't hit to right field. On the base paths he was the terror and a miracle to all who beheld. It was not uncommon for him to steal second and third on two pitched balls.

White And Bent
Today he is white and bent by the years, but his enthusiasm is no less fevered than it was in 1900 when he was the shimmering star of the baseball world. Asked to make the inevitable comparison between baseball in the "good old days" and today, he said:

"I don't like to make comparisons. Conditions today are vastly different than they were when I was playing. The ball is changed. The rules have been changed. And the players go about their work in a more business-like manner. It's not as much fun as it used to be."

As a youth, Wagner was not like his brethren of the diamond. He could do things they couldn't do. Today, a man whose memories go back 40 years in baseball, he is still different. Most of the old boys insist that the game of the dim past was better. But Wagner is more conservative. He says he doesn't know.

"I expect Pittsburgh to win the pennant," he said. "We have a very strong club, but in this game you never can tell."

You could always tell about Wagner. He was sure to do the right thing.

Not Many Trout Caught Saturday

Attorney Wilbur Baer Lands Big Trout In Hettenbaugh Run

WATER HIGH AND FEED PLENTIFUL

Trout fishing was not very successful Saturday for the majority of the army of anglers who fared to the various streams of the county. However, some anglers had some luck. High water and plenty of food which has been swept into the streams kept the trout from biting, according to those who went out the first day of the season.

According to reports Attorney Wilbur Baer made the choice catch of the day. He landed a trout about a pound in weight and 16 or 17 inches long, according to the information sent in by those who were along Hettenbaugh run.

George R. Brown got 10 in Taylor run and Tom Elliott caught seven in the same run. Frank Williams caught five in the Little Neshannock and Charles Withers landed three in Taylor run. ### Gehrig Hits Third Homer

Lou Gehrig Clouts Out Third Homer In Victory Over Athletics

PITCHERS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 17.—Buster Lou Gehrig, the best ball player in the world, is out to add the 1933 American League home run crown to his galaxy of records.

Last year Jimmy Foxx was the big noise in the home run racket with 58 circuit clouts, only two shy of Babe Ruth's record. The hurriers had to pitch to Jimmy because Al Simmons followed him in the Athletics' batting order, but this season boxmen will be handing passes to Foxx to get at the weaker batters. So Gehrig may hit more homers than Foxx.

Three Homers
The husky first baseman of the Yankees, who hit 27 homers in 1928, 35 in 1929, 41 in 1930, 46 in 1931 and 34 last year, is starting the present campaign with the apparent intention of breaking Ruth's mark of 60. He has smacked three of them in four games, which is one reason the Yanks are leading the league with four straight wins despite the fact they have failed to outthrust their opponents in a single game.

Gehrig's third homer featured New York's 5 to 4 victory over the A's yesterday. Big Walter Brennan, rookie pitcher from Newark making his Big League debut with the Yanks, pitched good ball until the eighth when he had to be rescued by Moore.

Pitchers In Shape
With the exception of a few clubs, the pitchers are ahead of the batters. Red Lucas of Cincinnati limited the Cardinals to two hits, winning 7 to 0, and John Berly of the Phillies turned in another two-hitter against the Braves, blanking them 2 to 0. The Phils got but five hits off Huck Betts.

Carl Hubbell, mound ace of the Giants, and Joe Shaute, Brooklyn's sweet-singing tenor, thrilled 30,000 fans with a pitching duel that went 14 innings to a 1 to 1 tie before darkness halted the proceedings. Hack Wilson, former home run king, finally broke into the Dodger lineup and got three hits, including a triple which saved his team from defeat.

Indians Win Again
Cleveland kept its slant clean by beating the Browns, 7 to 1, but the victory may be a costly one. Wes Ferrell, star hurler of the Indians, pulled a tendon in his shoulder and had to quit.

All other games were washed out.

Polish Falcons End Great Floor Season

Polish Falcons Win 28 And Lose 11 Games During Season Just Ended

A. Pszeny Is High Scorer On Team With 271 Points, Team Total Is 1,064

Polish Falcons basketball team managed by Andy Mehalec and Frank Noga, and Coached by Steve Volesko, with Marion Kolodjeski as physical director, has just finished one of the most successful basketball seasons in the history of the Falcon Nest No. 146. The floor team one of the strongest to ever represent the Falcons won 28 games and lost 11. The locals were the runnersup to New Kensington for the Polish Falcon championship. The Falcons are laying claim to scoring the highest number of points of any basketball team in New Castle. The total was 1,064 for the 39 games. The Falcons played the biggest and hardest schedule ever attempted by a Falcon team. New Kensington and St. Andrews were the only teams to win from the Falcons twice this year. The Falcons met and defeated among others some of the fastest and best teams in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

A Pszeny was the high scorer, the tall center having a total of 271 points made through 115 field goals and 41 fouls. J. Mehalec was second high with 74 field goals and 28 fouls for 176 points. Dudek was third with 112 points and H. Koszella fourth and S. Koszella fifth, all of them being over 100 points. The Falcon opponents scored a total of 852 points. The Falcons are highly pleased with the coaching of Steve Volesko and under his guidance the teams in this year and other years have been foremost in basketball. The Falcons hope to be back next year with a bigger and better team, according to A. Mehalec the energetic business manager, who together with Frank Noga looked after the Falcons this year. Much credit also can be given Marion Kolodjeski for the physical condition of the players.

Yankees Must Be Stopped Or Wreck Baseball

American League Clubs Will Fight Hard To Upset The Yankee Appellate

COLONEL RUPPERT DESIRES TO WIN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 17.—Old Jake Ruppert, the Book Beer Colonel, isn't going to like this story. In the first place, it will not blather needlessly about millionaire sportsmen with ideals and a paunch nor will it laud him for the fact that he wants to win. Instead, it will blame him for the fact that he wants to win too much; that what he apparently seeks is not victory with competition but the building of an incubus that will grow and spread until, by comparison, all others are puny. The colonel, by the very virtues of which the boys speak so admiringly, can and some day may be held to be the greatest single menace to the success of baseball, notably the American league.

That even baseball is beginning to recognize this is proved by the fact that the whole American league outside New York is devoting its off hours to prayer and meditation to the end that, if the Yankees must win this time, it won't be by as much as ten games. That would almost wreck the league.

Very Good Rookies.
However, this won't stop the colonel from trying to win by ten games. He'd like to win by 20 if he could, and establish a record, while the rest of the owners were seeing what they could do about establishing extensions on the moratorium. He would be sorry to learn of this but, after all, wasn't that life and isn't the winning idea the right one?

It is—but, like a joke in doubtful taste, it can be carried too far. I should say that it is being carried too far when, with a club like the Red Sox desperate for players and the White Sox, Tigers and Browns needing just a man or two to make them really formidable, the Yankees are sending major leaguers to Newark because they have no room for them. Hoag hit over 370 last year. But he's back in the minor leagues. Cooke, recovering from his injuries, is supposed to be on the verge of stardom. But the Yanks couldn't wait for that. Devens might win ten games for any major league outfit. But he'll probably win 20 in Newark.

Can Be Recalled.
As for Saltzgraver, the second baseman; Hill, the outfielder, and Rolfe, the shortstop, they weren't even brought up for official scrutiny this time. They were ready for the big time but the Yankees weren't ready for them. The result is that the Yankee second team, probably good enough to finish out of last place in the American league, is over in Newark, ready to be recalled, man by man, if the emergency arises.

It probably won't. Not that the regular Yankee lineup is fool proof. Sewell is tottering and Lazzeri is on the verge. But the club has more infield reserves than it knows what to do with—Lary, who can play any position in the infield; Werber, a shortstop and third baseman; Farrell, who can play anywhere except first base.

In the outfield, Ruth can't get them and Combs can't throw them. Yet, in spite of this, the Yanks are sending men away who can and do win in the American league. Why? Because they have men like Sam Byrd, a major leaguer for five years, and Fred Walker, the "new Ruth", sitting on the bench. If Walker is half as good as they say he is, Ruth could withdraw to a life of ease and refinement tomorrow and wouldn't be too greatly missed.

Spring Drills Will Last For One More Week

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 17.—Spring football drills at Westminster College will probably last only one more week, Coach John Lawther said today. The Titan gridders have been holding afternoon workouts for one week, have tasted two light scrimmage sessions and will play a short-period game toward the end of next week. Thirty-five men have been reporting each day.

Jack Martin, Sharon, former Penn State grid captain and a special student in education at Westminster, has been assisting Coach Lawther in drilling the linemen. Martin is doing a good piece of work. Glen Rehuf, captain for the last two seasons, is also assisting.

A friend of ours says that his wife used to be worth her weight in gold but that now she has gone off the gold standard.

Vasko Family In Seclusion

New York Family Makes Good Threat To Evade
Operation On Girl

REPORTED IN PENNSYLVANIA

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—The family of John Vasko, shoved into the spotlight through Mrs. Vasko's refusal to submit her baby daughter Helen to an operation to save her life, apparently has made good its bid for seclusion.

Reporters who searched for the family in this section, where the family was reported to have fled, met with no success. The only tangible "clue" to their whereabouts was furnished by Police Sergeant Silas Collins who said he recognized the family as they passed through here in a small automobile late Saturday.

In Seclusion

According to Sgt. Collins, the machine was headed for Minersville. At the latter town, officers of the Greek Catholic Parish indicated that if Vasko sought refuge and seclusion there for his family, that fact would be divulged unless it could be proved that the family was fleeing from justice.

This stand was backed up by the Sergeant who pointed out that no charges have been filed against any member of the family.

Doctors Are Crazy

Millvale, Pa., April 17.—"Those doctors are crazy!"

With this declaration, a Millvale mother today indicated she might follow the precedent of Mrs. Anna Vasko of Hastings, N. Y., who fled to Pennsylvania rather than submit her daughter to an operation.

She is Mrs. Mary Lesic who is adamant in her refusal to return her three-year-old son, Billy, to Children's Hospital for medical treatment although physicians claim the boy's life is in danger from a tubercular condition of the spine.

Mrs. Lesic said:

"I'm going to do the same as the mother in New York. She didn't let the doctors take her girl away and I'm not going to let them take Billy away."

Defies Officials

"If my little boy is sick, I'm going to take care of him at home. I won't let him go back to the hospital. Those doctors are crazy."

Edwin M. Smith, chief agent of the Western Pennsylvania Humane Society, opened a court fight against Mrs. Lesic by filing a juvenile court petition asking that the boy be placed in a hospital. The case is expected to be heard Wednesday.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

You don't need to go fishing to get a kick out of the sport. Just be a good listener and you get everything but the hike out to the stream where the sportive trout is at home. And the past forty eight hours have been productive of some good stories, concerning trout fishing.

Bob Cage was the first to report any large trout caught. Bob snared a fifteen inch prize on the Big Run near Gibsontdale after a pretty three round battle. The trout lost by a hook.

Wilbur Baer got his big trout near the Frew Mill road on the Big Run. Baer's measuring eighteen inches in length and proving the Baers with a real taste of Lawrence County brook trout.

Cecil Suber of the police force seems to have slid into the first place in the matter of fish lengths. Suber caught one nineteen inches long which is good length for most any fish up to a muskallonge. Suber caught his on the Hettenbaugh Run and according to Flip McConally, the Hettenbaugh Run is the home of better trout this season.

There is a difference it seems. The Neshannock, the Slippery Rock, Elliott Run and Taylor Run all have their points he says, but for quality production, the trout of distinction as it were the Hettenbaugh Run is away ahead.

Thus far we have had no stories of any enraged trout jumping out of the creeks and attacking a fisherman, but the season is still young.

The weatherman seems to have no idea of the fitness of things. On Easter Sunday he dishes out a rain storm that lasted all day long. Today he hands out weather that would have been good for a lot of cheers from the gals with new clothes. And there were lots of them.

Gomer Emery is a lover of music. Any time there is a concert on tap, or a feast of good music either vocal, string or brass, Gomer is willing to do his share towards getting in. But he is of the opinion that four o'clock in the morning is a bit early to bring music around to the front door.

At four o'clock Sunday morning some carol singers, eight of them and a trumpet player stopped in front of his house and proceeded to sing carols. To be sure he was awake they flashed the headlights up into the bed room windows. Which seems to be getting an early start on Easter.

In spite of the rain the churches showed a heavy attendance yesterday and it wasn't because of new clothes. Some how a fellow can't alibi his absence from church on Easter very well, no matter what his denomination or whether he is a member or not.
